Neale for inspector of flour and salted provisions; and a communi-cation from the same calling attention to the inadequacy of the compensation allowed to the ward physicians for the poor of the city, were referred. A communication from Mr. Cromeline offering for consideration his improved plan of street railways, was referred. An act to supply certain adjoining tenements on north K street with water through one service pipe, was passed. magistrate of the 2d, 4th, and 6th districts, was confirmed. The nomination of Thomas G. Clayton as police

A joint resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee of two members from each board, and the Mayor, to confer with the President and Directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company in relation to the terms of the transfer of their franchise for the construction of street railways in this city to this Corporation.was passed.

The police committee, to which had been re-ferred the bill from the lower board in relation to the new gas company, reported a substitute, in-structing the committee before Congress to urge that body to demand a reduction of the price of gas furnished by the old gas company from $3.15 nett to $2.50 per one thousand feet.

Mr. Moore objected to the preamble of the resolution offered as a substitute, and complained of the street lights in his neighborhood. Mr. Bayly defended the substitute.

Mr. Dove was in favor of the substitute, and hoped the bill before Congress to charter the new company would be defeated, as it would only benefit residents on the lines leading to the public buildings, but would be no benefit to citizens living on other streets. At the same time, it would be unjust to the old company to give the furnishing to the public buildings and thoroughfares to the new company and leave the old to furnish the streets in the suburbs only. Mr. Richards contended that the price of gas was too high in this city, and asked by what authority members stated that the new company would only lay down mains on the principal thoroughfares. The old company had never laid any mains in localities where it would not pay. To show how enormous the profits of gas-light companies were, and as the Washington company made no showing of their earnings, he (Mr. Richards) quoted a Chicago paper to show what the profits were in that city to one company—$700 per diem at $2.50 per thousand feet. The substitute offered here amounted to just nothing at all.

Mr. Bayly was not wedded to the preamble, and if it was the pleasure of the Board to strike it out, he would not object. Mr. Brodhead explained the provisions of the charter proposed to be given to the new company by Congress, and thought it was in no respect calculated to do injustice to the old company. Mr. Dove thought that Mr. Richards' statistical statement was incorrect, as the coal which he stated was furnished in Chicago at 84 per ton cost the gas company, in Philadelphia, $6 per ton. The new company, having a contract to furnish the General Government for ten years at $2 50 per thousand feet, ought not simply to be allowed the privilege of laying mains in the back streets, but ought to be compelled to do it. It was in the power of Congress to reduce the price of gas furnished by the old company-a power they had exercised on one occasion.

Mr. Brodhead said his friend from the First Ward (Mr. Dove) would impose restrictions upon the new company which had never been imposed upon the old company. The new company asked nothing more nor less than had been granted to the old company, and wanted only fair competition. There was no contract with the government any more than with individuals. The new company was bound to furnish at a price not greater than $2 50 for ten years, but neither the government nor the citizens were obliged to take unless they chose to do so.

Mr. Bohrer moved to strike out the preamble, and stated that he thought something was due to the old company. Mr. Dove thought if the bill before Congress was not a contract he did not know what a contract was. Mr. Bayly thought that residents in the suburbs would have to pay an increased price for gas to the old company if the price was reduced to residents in the main thoroughfares. Mr. Brodhead moved to insert $3.50 gross in place of $3.15 nett, which was adopted (10 to 2), and the resolution was passed. The nominations of Jacob Fisher as scavenger to the second district of the Fourth Ward; James Miller as Clerk of the Western Market; and of Edward B Burey as apothecary to furnish medicines to the poor of the Fifth Ward, were con-An act creating a Secretary to the Board of Health was passed.

A communication from the Perseverance Fire Company was referred. The special (joint) committee on the subject of the Washington and Alexandria Railroad Company made a written report, detailing the action of the corporate authorities on the subject, and reviewing the different plans proposed to relieve the city from its obligations in that connection namely, either to authorize the Trustees to sell the interest of the Corporation in the road at public sale; or to accept the preposition of Mr. Alexander Hay to purchase said interest. The committee, in conclusion, reported resolutions authorizing the Mayor to instruct the Trustees to sell the interest of this Corporation in the road to Mr. Hay on the terms offered by him; with the exception that instead of this Corporation being secured by a deed of trust on the road from Mr. Hay for the $30,000 of outstanding claims against this city, he (Mr. H.) pay the amount in cash in thirty days.

. Brown wanted immediate action. Mr. Moore opposed such hasty action, and said that no proposition in connection with this road had ever been made here without instant action being required. He did not know that the prop ceition of Mr. Hay was yet before the board. Correspondence between Mr. Hay, his counsel, Mr. Stewart, and committees of the boards were read, to show that the proposition of Mr. Hays was still pending. Mr. Moore wanted to know the nature of Mr. Hay's proposition. The bill just read was different from his original proposition, which he (Mr. H) states in the correspondence he cannot change or vary from. The act was illegal, and if Mr. Hays did not accept the terms proposed, the trustees would be obliged to sell out if they did not get $1 000. He (Mr. M) thought it best to print the bill and defer the matter for one week.

Mr. Brown briefly advocated the resolutions as reported, and advised immediate action. Mr. Brodhead moved to strike out "thirty" and insert "ninety" days as the time for payment;

Mr. Moore wished not to defer action, but to save time. This bill was imperfect. It had not been submitted to the Corporation attorney. He (Mr. Moore) read from a written opinion of the sented from the Mayor, approving acts making appropriations for the repair of the Western market house and the bridge at the intersection of New Jersey avenue and I st. south; and calling attention to the dispidated condition of the platering of the Center market-house, and recommending the repair of the same between Seventh.

and Eighth sts. A resolution requesting the Mayor to cause the walls of the burned building on F street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth sts., to be torn down,

Mr. Shepherd offered a resolution authorizing the appointment of a select committee of three to investigate and report upon the ordinances of the Corporation relative to the subject of the recent resolution of the Commissioners of the Metropolitan Police. [The resolution of the Commissioners of the Commissioners of the Metropolitan Police. [The resolution of the Commissioners of the Metropolitan Police. least any member of the Board; but it was necessary that the subject should be laid before a com mittee who should report to the Board all ord! nances touching the question, so as to enable them to vote understandingly.

Mr. Edmonston believed the intention of the resolution to be to set the negroes at large. They already did much damage, and were a growing evil, with the law; but if it was repealed there would be no restraint at all upon them, and the city would be completely overrun by them. He was in favor of retaining the law upon the statute book, and should oppose all measures for its re-

Mr. Shepherd said the resolution did not an ticipate the repeal of laws upon the subject. He only desired to treat the Board of Police Commis sioners with the respect due them; and the Board of Commen Council could not do less than to refer the resolution of the Commissioners to a committee for the information of the Council. All he desired was a proper knowledge of the ordinances of the Corporation upon the subject.
Mr. Edmonston did not wish to treat the Police Commissioners with disrespect. The Council should let the negro question alone. That was not the time or place to agitate the subject. Too much was said about it in Congress, and it would be a great deal better if less attention was paid to that, and more to the condition of the country.

The resolution was tabled—yeas 8, nays 7. Petitions from H. Parker, James Laws, T Jourden and Bernard Bryan, praying the remission of fines imposed, were referred. [The latter petitioner was fined for selling iliquors to workmen in the Navy Yard on Sunday, which act was plead as a "military necessity.]

Passed: Bills establishing a fish wharf and dock at the foot of Eleventh street; authorizing the laying of a water main on Thirteenth street from I to G street north; making an appropriation for the repair of the roof of the Washington Asylum; and resolutions calling upon the Mavor for all outstanding claims for work done upon the Central Guardhouse; authorizing the appointment of a committee to confer with the directors of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad relative to the Washington City Railway; and requesting the Mayor to call the attention of the officers in charge of the Interior Department to certain obstructions in the streets.

Referred : Bills authorizing certain tenements to be supplied with Potomac water; for the relief of B. F. Clarke and Sandy Middleton; making an appropriation for the payment of corporation con-stables; appropriating $300 for the benefit of the Columbia fire company; authorizing the Mayor to lease the vacant lot No. 3, in square 490; prohibiting the use of privy wells; and a joint resolution disposing of all the interest of the Corporation in the Alexandria and Washington railroad to Alexander Hay.

THE BARNEY ESTATE IN THE ORPHANS' COURT To understand the questions involved, we propose to briefly review the action of the contestants up to this date. A few weeks ago Lieut. Barney, as next best friend of his children, petitioned the court to compel Dr. Harvey Lindsley to settle his accounts as collector of the Barney estate, and to give security for payment of any balance due. Dr. Lindsley responded that he was, from the date of his appointment as collector of the estate of Mrs Barney, deceased, on the 2d day of Octo-ber, 1860, to the 25th day of January, 1862, when he was appointed guardian of the children, act ing as agent of the court, in receiving money and disbursing it for the benefit of the children, and that he gave security to the amount of $1,000 for a faithful performance of his duty; further, that he had rendered an account to October last, and would render an account for the whole time, when ordered to do so by the court.

More than a w into court his account as collector of the rents of Mrs. Barney, deceased, to the time of her death, showing $187.90 in his hands; also, an account as collector of rents and profits of the real estate of the infant children, showing a balance due him-

To the last account Messrs. Davidge and Winder (for S. C. Barney) made exceptions to the discount charged by Dr. L. upon Virginia notes taken for rent; to his charge for commissions (10 per cent) as exorbitant; and that he had failed to charge himself with $50 received from Anthony, the hatter, for rent for the months of August and September; that Mrs. B. died on the 28th of Sep-tember, 1860, and the rent due on the first of October, for the month of September, belonged to the children.

Last Saturday, in open court, the counsel above named added to the paper of exceptions the fol-lowing: "The accounts of Dr. Lindsley having been sworn to this day, exceptions in addition to the above will be filed. The Orphans' Court is requested to defer action upon the accounts until an opportunity is afforded of ascertaining their

Mr. Fendall briefly replied to the counsel on the other side. Later in the day, Mr. Blount stated to the court that Dr. Lindsly was ready for any investigation of his accounts; that Dr. Lindsly, in the accounts which he had rendered to the court, and which had been stated by the clerk, had credited every dollar which had come to his hands in the proper account; that for his disbursements, he felt confident they were sustained by law; and that Dr. L was not only ready for, but courted the most rigid scrutiny into his accounts by any party who really elt an interest in the matter

In this connection it may be proper to state that on Saturday John W. DeKraft applied to the court for letters of administration on the estate of Mrs. Barney, deceased.

[Intel. & Rey.] CASH NOTICE.

SECOND EDITION

THREE O'CLOCK, P. M.

OUR MILITARY BUDGET. VERY LATEST FROM THE UPPER POTOMAC. A telegram received here from General Banks' column at one p. m. to-day, states that that commander is of opinion that the enemy continue in his front, at Winchester, in force. We cannot believe so in the face of their evacuation of their entire lower line. It is probable that the militia of the vicinity may be keeping up a sham of the military occupation of Winchester, to delay the progress of Gen. Banks' column entering the town, in order to afford the people an opportunity to run off what articles of any value the secesh troops have left there.

if, however, the impression prevailing in Banks' column be correct, Jackson's army remain about Winchester only because in the burry of the evacuation of their lower line it was left behind as an absolute necessity, for want of transportation to move it. Otherwise, it would surely have gone off with the rest. The story that it has been reinforced from Manassas is bosh. The rebels would not abandon their railroad connection with Richmond, to rick defeat about Winchester, where they are now wholly without railroad connections south or west.

The only means of retreat from Winchester now left to them is per turnpike down to Staunton, if our army proceeds along the Orange railroad to Gordonsville, from whence (in twentytwo miles) it can reach Charlottesville, and thus cut off the entire Staunton rail connection with Richmond.

As we can progress along the Grange road quite as fast as Jacksen can-escape down the valley-the lines being nearly parallel-we do not believe that the rebel commanders have risked leaving Jackson's army isolated at Winchester, as is certainly thought to-day in the column of Gen. Banks.

ARBIVAL OF SECESSION PRISONERS. The Lincoln Cavalry, while scouting in the vicinity of Burke's Station, on the Orange and Alexandria Railrond-fourteen miles out-vesterday, captured thirteen secession prisoners. Eleven of these prisoners passed through Pennsylvania avenue this morning, in charge of a guard, on their way to Gen'l Porter's office, and attracted a great deal of attention, as our main thoroughfare was thronged at the time. The prisoners were slight of stature, and looked as if they were not fitted for the wear and tear of a soldier's life. They are roughly clad, and their bearing and demeanor was more like that of laboring men (which they probably are) than of the F. F. V's They had on rough homespun drab coats, pants made of the stuff known as Kentucky jeans or "hard times," and each man had a knapsack, with blanket, &c. They were well shod, but were exceedingly dirty and slovenly.

LATER FROM FORTRESS MONROE. We have advices up to 1 p. m. to-day, per telegram, from Fortress Monree, when everything was quiet there. A flag of truce that went up to Craney Island earlier in the day had not returned at that hour. A RECONNOISSANCE.

A reconnoissance was made this forenoon across the Occoquan, scouring the country for five miles west of that stream. All the late rebel camps in that vicinity were found deserted and destroyed.

CONGRESSIONAL XXXVIIth CONGRESS-Second Session.

TUESDAY, March 11. SENATE .- Mr. Wilson offered a resolution directing the Naval Affairs' Committee to inquire into and report upon the circumstances of the late destruction of the sloop-of-war Cumberland and the frigate Congress, near Fortress Monroe, which, after discussion by the mover, and Messrs Hale and Grimes, was referred to the Special Committee on the Conduct of the War.

The bill of the House providing for the pur-chase of coin for the use of the Government was taken up, and discussed by Mr. Fessenden in its favor until the expiration of the morning hour, when it was laid aside. The bill to confiscate the property of rebels of every description was next taken up, and Mr.

Carlile addressed the Senate at length against its passage. House.—Resolutions calling upon the Secretary of War for a list of regimental and hospital chaplains, and upon the Secretary of the Interior for a list of names entered upon the pension rolls since the rebellion, were adopted. Mr. Wilson asked leave to introduce a bill declaring certain persons ineligible to office.

[This bill provides that no person who has held any office, either civil, military or naval, under the so-called Confederate Government, shall hold any office under the United States Government or in any State of the Union 1 Mr. Wood, of New York, objected to the introduction of the bill. The bill amendatory to the act incorporating the Columbia Institution for the deaf, dumb and blind, and appropriating $4,400 per annum for the benefit of the same, was passed. LATE LOCAL NEWS.

A Novel Case .- B. Bucher, who resides near the camps at Kalorama, was employed by the men of the 8th New York cavalry, to do some work for them, and had the assurance of the captain, J. W. Dickinson, that he should be paid. The amount coming due for work was $60, when the corps suddenly received marching orders, and the men were in no condition to pay. The captain's horse and equipments were in Bucher's care, and when the captain went for them Bucher declined giving them up, holding them to secure the payment of the money due. The case was laid before Justice Johnsen, who advised Bucher to give up the property without trouble and the The amount coming due for work was $60, when to give up the property without trouble, and take the proper steps to secure payment; the certainty of which there could be no doubt. The advice of the justice was complied with, and the property restored. OLD POSTAGE STAMPS .- Postmaster Clephane states that a large number of letters and papers are daily dropped into our city post office having upon them the old postage stamps. The letters and papers are of course not forwarded, and remain in the office as unpaid letters We deem this notice important, as many persons are perhaps using them who are ignorant of the fact that the old issue is no longer recognised in payment for postage.

Expert Trief.-This morning a lady was standing in front of Marshall's auction rooms on Seventh street, when a young man nudged her as if forcing his way to some one in front. The lady turned and looked him in the face, and the young fellow stepped aside. A moment after the lady missed her purse, containing two five dollar Treasury notes and some small change.

CONTRABANDS -This morning a squad of thirteen contrabands, men and women, with one or two children, passed up the avenue in the direc-tion of the Provost Marshal's office, in charge of two Cavalry soldiers dismounted. It was said they came from the Virginia lines. ATTENTION is called to the notice elsewhere of the meeting of the Washington Scientific Association, at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association to-night. An interesting paper will be read by a scientific gentleman MANOKIN OTSTERS - Harvey has received some of this delicious variety of cysters which he is seiling at the lowest prices, at his famous estab-lishment on C street. Many good judges prefer these oysters to any others known. An interesting meeting of the Sons of Temperance will be held to-night at Temperance Hall, with some of the best speakers of the day in attendance. CRIMINAL COURT .- In consequence of the continued indisposition of Judge Crawfor this court was again adjourned over until to-morrow.
